WALDORF ASTORIA

NEW YORK, NY

The Waldorf Astoria New York in New York City underwent a landmark restoration between December 2023 and January 2026. As one of the most iconic properties in hospitality, once described by Conrad Hilton as “The Greatest of Them All,” the project required an exceptional level of precision and care.

Designer Logistics International managed more than $15 million in FF&E, overseeing warehousing, delivery, and installation across a highly complex, large-scale redevelopment that blended preservation, and restoration to reimagine the property as a boutique hotel and luxury residences.

Operating in the heart of Manhattan presented intricate logistical challenges, from navigating congested city streets to coordinating tightly controlled delivery schedules. Through proactive planning, detailed project management, and constant communication, every shipment and installation milestone was carefully executed to align with the project’s demanding timelines.

The result was seamless, behind-the-scenes logistics that supported the work of hundreds of artisans and craftspeople—helping restore the Waldorf Astoria to its original 1931 grandeur while ensuring flawless execution at every stage.
